Art Unit: 3744

1. Figures 1 and 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4, 7-13, 17, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,682,161 to Yun in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,321,579 to Brown et al. Yun discloses the claimed invention of a communication pad mounting structure for a refrigerator including the supporter and connector 11, 12 for pivotably connecting the supporter in the seating space. However, Yun does not disclose that the connector allows the pad to move between extended and retracted positions relative to the seating space and allow the pad to rotate through a predetermined range of angles. Brown et al teaches a support for a communication pad 10. The support includes a supporter 54 and connector 52 which clearly allows the pad to move between retracted and extended positions and also allows the pad to rotate through a range of angles. Thus, it would be obvious to modify Yun so that the pad 10 can move between extended and retracted positions and also allow the pad to rotate through a predetermined range of angles, in view of Brown et al, to yield the predictable result of allowing more adjustability for the pad.

4. Claims 5, 6, 14-16, and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Applicant's arguments filed February 26, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's remarks are believed to be answered by the newly cited patent to Brown et al.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
